

WATER BONDS TO BE SOLD; THIRD ISSUE IS CALLED FOR TO COMPLETE WORK BEGUN

Immediate steps will be taken to dispose of both issues of water bonds which have been voted by Sierra Madre, as a result of the action of Tuesday evening's meeting of the city trustees. Senator Hewitt, who has had charge of the litigation for the city in the Baldwin condemnation suit, met with the board and talked over with them the best procedure to be followed.

There is now no obstacle in the way of the issuance of the $111,000 voted for the purchase of the water company's water rights, pumping plants and distributing system. Of this amount $26,000 was the agreed price as the system was at the time the deal was consummated. The balance of $85,000 was provided for extensions and improvements. About $10,000 has been spent under the joint direction of the water company's directors and the city trustees on extensions and the new well and pumping plant. The exact amount will be paid to the company in addition to the $26,000 as provided in the agreement of sale. The balance of $5,000 will hardly take care of other necessary extensions and replacements.

$40,000 Issue Insufficient

When the condemnation suit for the Baldwin half of the Little Santa Anita canyon was instituted by the city a bond issue of $40,000 was voted to defray the costs. It was thought that amount would satisfy any award the court might make, pay the expense of the suit and leave a balance for extensions and improvements. Instead of having enough the issue will be insufficient to meet the court's award to the Baldwin estate by about $10,000. The court awarded a trifle over $50,000 to the Baldwin estate as damages for the loss of the water. The prosecution of the case by the city will have cost in the neighborhood of $5,000. The amount which is absolutely needed is thus seen to be $15,000 in excess of the $40,000 which the bonds will bring.

Two courses lay before the trustees one is to raise this amount by a direct tax levy, which would dispose of the demand in a lump but would fall very heavily on the property owners. Furthermore it would not provide funds for certain improvements in the system which would make possible the proper conservation of the available water supply. The alternative course offered is a supplementary bond issue, and this course is favored by the trustees and all those who have given the problem careful study.

Changes and Improvements

One of the most important improvements which must be made is in the pipe line carrying the water from the intake in the canyon to the division box at the head of Baldwin avenue where the flow was divided between the water company's pipes and the Baldwin ranch pipes. This pipe line is in such condition that a large percentage of the water is wasted through leakage. It is owned jointly by the water company and the Baldwin estate. With the city owning all interests both in the water and the pipe line it will be imperative to replace the conduit at once and conserve the flow. Many other things can be done to increase the supply simply by conserving what is now wasted. But it will take money. Hence the need for funds in addition to the absolutely necessary $15,000. After a long discussion Tuesday night the trustees decided $5,000 additional was the very least that could be made to meet the needs. Consequently it was decided to call a bond election to pass on an issue of $20,000 for the purpose. The purchase of the Baldwin interests by condemnation will be consummated in any event and the tax payers will have their choice of spreading the unforeseen expense over a period of years or of having it added in a lump to their next tax levy.

As told above, the two issues of $111,000 and $40,000 will be advertised for sale at once. By offering them for sale at the same time it was thought possible they might attract more favorable attention than if sold separately.

Remove Tin Cans

The suggestion emanating from the Board of Trade that systematic removal of tin cans and other trash be undertaken was discussed and approved. It was decided the tin can crop on the vacant lots was hardly in keeping with the otherwise excellent appearance of the town. Consequently the lots will be ridged of their burden. Property owners are also requested by Street Superintendent Udell to gather up their rubbish and place it on the curb next Monday for hauling away as a result of the action of the board.

Trustees Gray and Tarr and Chairman Jones were chosen as the city's three representatives on the local delegation to the San Gabriel Valley Inter-City Commission. Trustees Pegler and Steinberger were chosen as the alternates. Desk room in the city hall was allotted by the trustees both to the Health. Current bills were passed upon, the receipts from tax money being sufficient to provide for running expenses, though as yet insufficient to pile up a reserve.

INTER-CITY COMMISSION DELEGATES

Sierra Madre will be represented on the San Gabriel Valley Inter-City Commission by Messrs. C. S. Kersting, E. F. Ballou, W. J. Lawless, C. W. Jones, C. F. Gray and N. W. Tarr. The three first named were appointed by President Tarr of the Board of Trade to represent that body. The other three were selected from the members of the board of city trustees, each body being entitled to three representatives. The six delegates will choose a chairman who will become ex-officio a vice president of the Inter-City Commission. The commission holds its regular meeting in Alhambra this evening.

THOSE COUNTY TAXES

COUNTY TAXES GO DELINQUENT IF UNPAID BY THE 25TH.

Taxpayers who have not yet had their settlement with County Tax Collector W. O. Welch must hurry if they do not want their names to go on the delinquent roll. The last Monday in November is the last day for paying county taxes. After that date a penalty is added, with the liability that the property will be sold for taxes.

AUTO IS RECOVERED

DR. MACKERRAS COMES OUT IN LUCK WHEN AUTO IS STOLEN IN CITY

Dr. R. R. Mackerras is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the recovery of his Hudson roadster which was stolen in Los Angeles on Thursday of last week. The car was located by the police on Monday and returned to him the car was apparently in good shape, with nothing missing but an old inner tube and an old casing. A new inner tube and other things which might have been taken easily were not disturbed.

The car was taken while Dr. Mackerras had gone up to his office in the Los Angeles Investment Building at Eighth and Broadway. Intending to be in the office for a few minutes only he failed to lock the car as he left it standing by the curb. Upon his prompt return and discovery of the theft he reported to the police, giving the number and several distinguishing marks which would make it easy of identification. The police department reported that the number was seen on Saturday but could not be followed. On Monday the car was found standing near the corner of Third and Flower streets. No effort was made to ascertain whether the car had been abandoned or whether the thief would return for it. The doctor was not inclined to criticize the police for that in view of his thankfulness at regaining the auto. The thief was evidently not an experienced hand, as no effort had been made to disguise the car by changing the number of removing several distinguishing marks.

CONCERT MONDAY EVENING

First of a series of five concerts to be given under the auspices of the music committee of the Woman's Club will be heard Monday evening in the club house. The artists who will appear at the Monday evening concert are Mr. Harry Girard, baritone, director of the college, Mrs. Agnes Cain-Brown Girard, soprano, Mr. George Schoenfeld, harpsichord, Mr. Ray Hastings, piano, and Mme. Elsa Von Grofe-Menasco.

CITY WINS APPEAL

TWO-PER CENT CASE IS FINALLY DECIDED AGAINST FORMER TREASURER

Judge Shaw of the district court of appeals handed down a decision on Saturday which finally settles in favor of the city the case against F. C. Lehmer, former city treasurer, to recover money wrongfully withheld by him. The decision of the superior court is sustained, the appeal having been taken by the ex-official. The amount involved is something like $200 but the satisfaction at having the case settled is much greater, and the principle involved is far reaching.

The facts in the case are for the most part familiar. The ex-official claimed two per cent of the money which passed through his hands, one per cent as it came in and one per cent as it was paid out. The city trustees and attorney disputed the interpretation of the law under which he did so, claiming the law only allowed him one per cent of the money handled. Suit was brought to recover the amount withheld when the treasurer's term expired and the superior court ordered it repaid, saying the wording of the law was unmistakably in favor of the city.

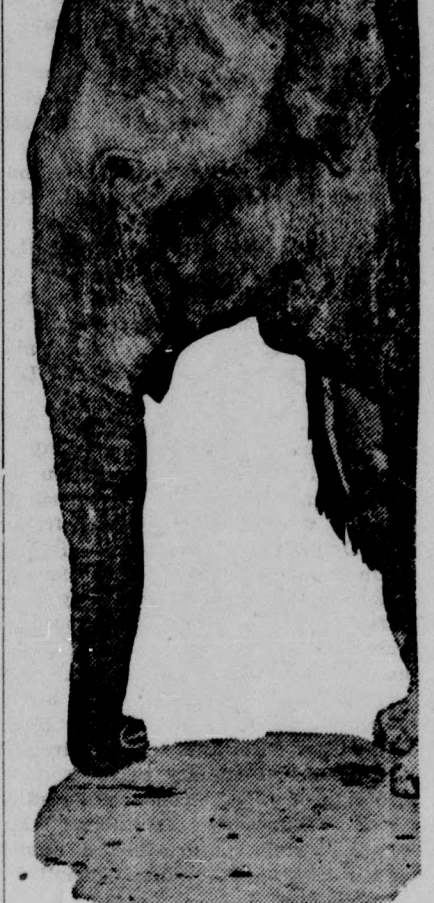

In spite of the emphatic language of the lower court an appeal was taken. In the mean time another court had decided a similar case brought by the city of Corona in an opposite manner, an appeal also being taken in that case. The appellate court handed down a decision reversing the Corona case late in October. Last Saturday the Sierra Madre case was decided. No hearing was held, the case being submitted in the form of briefs. In his opinion Judge Shaw quoted from the Corona decision and was just as emphatic as the lower court had been in the Sierra Madre case in insisting there was only one possible interpretation of the law. But even if there was a doubt, he said, a case should be decided in favor of the public as against the interests of any individual. The money involved has been in escrow pending the decision on the appeal, and will be immediately returned to the city exchequer.

BLIZZARD OF DUST

One of those dust storms which is fortunately really "unusual" visited Sierra Madre and the other foothill towns Wednesday and Wednesday night. While the wind was at times quite strong little real damage resulted. Wires were reported down in various parts of town and a few branches were blown from trees. The worst feature of the storm was the dust which filled the air. The freakish wind added to the unpleasantness. It would blow towards the valley, sending dust through every door, window and crevice on the north side of buildings. Then it would reverse and what dust had not been blown in at the north end would be peppered against the south end of the buildings. As a result housewives and storekeepers found their first task on Thursday morning to be the excavation of a thick coating of dirt from everything which had been left uncovered.

AN ELEPHANT REMEMBERS

Often it holds a grudge for years—and gets even.

It would be well for some people if they could and would remember as long as an elephant.

Not that they should treasure up a grudge, but that they should remember past mistakes and AVOID THEM.

For example, they should remember how they were trampled, jostled and crowded when they shopped just before Christmas and then resolve to SHOP EARLY.

They should remember that they found the goods all culled over and the clerks too tired and busy to wait on them promptly. Then they should determine to do their buying in future when the stock of goods and the clerks ARE BOTH FRESH.

Of course there are "fresh" clerks and fresh clerks, but the kind we mean are those that are not worn out by late Christmas shoppers.

Emulate the elephant and learn to use your memory.

Above all things, REMEMBER TO SHOP EARLY.

All those who wish to give Thanksgiving donations are asked to bring them to the Helping Station next Tuesday morning. It is said that beans, rice, and other staple goods will be most acceptable. The Philanthropy Committee are asked to meet Tuesday afternoon at the Helping Station in order to distribute the many articles donated.

ANNUAL BAZAAR OF LADIES OF ASCENSION PARISH DRAWS THROUGHS; PLAY MAKES A HIT

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" as the dramatic offering and all the other usual attractions of the annual bazaar of the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Ascension proved a strong drawing card Wednesday and Thursday. Attendance has been unusually large and the returns corresponding large, according to reports. On the whole it has been one of the most successful in the history of the annual bazaars.

Abundant offerings of fancy work, art goods and domestic articles were an alluring aid to the early Christmas shopper. The booths in the lobby and along the sides of the auditorium were prettily arranged and decorated. The ladies in charge of the various departments were as follows: Fancy work, Miss Daisy Hawks; cooked foods, Mrs. Loui Dietz; candy, Miss Florence Vannier; novelties, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conard; lemonade, Miss Grace Durand; fish pond, Mmes. F. J. Hart and L. L. Krebs. Chicken supper was served each evening under the supervision of Mrs. Caroline Collins.

The work of planning and directing the whole affair was in the hands of Miss Lydia Webster and Mrs. J. H. Wright. Visitors were welcomed and ordered to feel at home by a courtesy committee consisting of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Cornell, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Miss T. H. Graham, Mrs. L. C. Torrance and Miss Annis B. Coffey.

Preceding the play and between the acts delightful music was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Henry Edmund Earle of Pasadena. After the play on Thursday evening the floor of the auditorium was cleared for dancing, with music by the orchestra.

Players Make a Hit

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" as played Wednesday and Thursday evenings brought a more nearly unanimous verdict of approval than any dramatic offering seen in Sierra Madre for many years. The play lends itself admirably to amateur production and is a comedy farce with a laugh in almost every line. The cast under the direction of Mr. Norval McGregor extracted every particle of fun from the piece for the benefit of their hearers.

Seldom is an amateur production so well balanced. Every part was well taken, there being no one to "run away with the show" and no one below par. Much credit is due Mr. McGregor's ability as a dramatic instructor and his personal interest for the success of the production.

Funny Situations Abound

The story of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is more or less familiar by reason of the long runs it has enjoyed wherever played. It bears a lesson to married folk on the evil of attempting to conceal matters of conduct from each other. Tom Temple comes in one morning after having been out all night. His wife refuses to accept his explanation that he went up in a Ferris wheel and was kept there all night by reason of an accident to the machinery, so he invents a story on the spot. He says he met an old friend who invited him to dinner at his home in the suburbs. Missing the last car into the city he was forced to remain all night. In reply to his wife's query he gives his friend's name as "John Brown, Elm avenue, Pickletope on the Thames." Mrs. Temple sends a telegram to that address summoning John Brown to her house, telling him her happiness depends on his immediate arrival. She determines that her future relations with Tom shall depend on the truthfulness of his story.

Tom's old friend Frank Fuller happens in and upon hearing Tom's tale of woe and discovering the contents of the telegram agrees to impersonate the fictitious John Brown. Just as their little deception appears to be working out nicely a real John Brown of Elm avenue, Pickletope, appears. He is a diminutive hairdresser who might have been the original of Bud Fisher's "Little Jeff." He thinks he has been summoned by Mrs. Temple for a little flirtation. Just as she has asked her husband and the other John Brown to dispose of him Mrs. John Brown appears to investigate the reason for the telegram which she has discovered in her husband's desk.

Complications Increase

A little love story is working out all the time between Mrs. Temple's sister Dorothy and Captain Sharpe of the army. Wigson, an officious and inquisitive butler who was always being ordered to do the thing that he "was just a going to do," furnishes a lot of comedy throughout the story. Moreover, as Wigson is about to go to a new place to work his prospective mistress calls on Mrs. Temple to inquire regarding his "character." She proves to be Mrs. Frank Fuller who is unaware at the moment of her husband's presence in the city and of his little game with Temple. Fuller has a merry time explaining to his wife and to Mrs. Temple why his name is sometimes Fuller and sometimes Brown. Temple comes in and finds that Mrs. Fuller is the unknown woman with whom he occupied the car of the Ferris wheel all night. The straightening out of the amazing complication of lies which resulted from the first pervariation by Temple to his wife furnishes the basis for the story. Of course it all ends happily.

Jack Wright fits admirably into the part of Tom Temple. His blundering efforts to keep pace with Frank Fuller, impersonated by Victor Rottmann, in the race for the Ananias championship medal, won unstinted applause. Mr. Rottmann's first appearance before a Sierra Madre audience inspired the hope that it would not be his last, for his work was exceedingly clever. Miss Edith Blumer as Mrs. Temple and Miss Lottie Humphries as Mrs. Fuller fully sustained their reputations for histrionic talent. Miss Isobel Langton made a winsome Dorothy who proved naturally attractive to Captain Sharpe as played by Paul Baugh. Louis Dietz and Miss Dorothy Humphries added greatly to the hilarity of the fun by their clever impersonations of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Pickletope, an innocent, inoffensive gentleman and a perfect lady. As Wigson, the butler, Ed Pelletier secured a laugh at every one of his frequent appearances. His work was remarkably consistent from start to finish for an amateur production.

Many out of town guests are expected and a cordial invitation is extended to all members who may be sojourning in Sierra Madre for the winter to meet with the chapter members on that occasion and join in extending fraternal greetings to the grand officers of the state who will be in charge of the installation ceremonies.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

CITY UNDERTAKES REMOVAL OF RUBBISH AND CLEAN-UP OF VACANT PROPERTY

Pursuant to action taken at the meeting of the city trustees Tuesday evening Street Superintendent Udell has been planning the campaign for the cleaning up of the city and the beginning of periodical rubbish removal. Next Monday has been appointed as the day for the first attack. All property owners are urged to garner their crop of tin cans and other rubbish and place it on the curb. It will be gathered up and hauled away by wagons provided by the city. Garbage and decaying vegetable matter cannot be handled and must not be placed with the rubbish for removal. The first cleaning up may require several days for completion. After that it is hoped that regular trips once every month or two will keep the city so well cleaned up that property owners will not be tempted to dispose of their tin cans by throwing them out on the vacant lots. A regular day will probably be appointed for these periodical visits.

SHOP AND SHIP EARLY

Shop Early and Ship Early is a good slogan for the Christmas season. By so doing you not only help yourself by getting the pick of the season's goods and avoiding the crush, but you help the shop people, the post office clerks and the express company employees. In shipping packages early you can mark on the outside "Do not open till Christmas."

 ganized there for the benefit of the Northern California bands who recently lost homes and many lives by forest fires. Great destitution and suffering resulted and the case has made a strong appeal to those interested in the work.

 Tuesday at Sierra Madre Villa where he has been a resident for two years past. Death was due to a nervous disorder from which he had suffered for some time. He was 64 years of age and a native of Scotland. He came to America when four years of age, living in Bridgewater, Mass., until he was forty years of age, when he removed to Washington and later came to California. He and his wife had been residents of Long Beach most of the time since coming to this state.
 In earlier life he was a farmer and was always respected and popular.
 Mr. MacBeth was a loyal member of the Masonic lodge of Bridgewater, where he retained his membership. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Renaker & Gay parlors, Rev. Dr. George H. Cornell being in charge. Interment was at the Sierra Madre cemetery, six Masonic brethren acting as pall bearers.

 H. Haynor of Glendale spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr.
 and Mrs. Burton Andrews.

 Miss Gladys McClure of Bishop is the guest this week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Nightingale.

 Philip Blumer and two sons of Eagle Rock are the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Blumer.

 As week end guests at her home
 Miss Irene Coapman had Misses Josephine James and Katherine Grant of Pasadena.

 Mrs. H. G. Flint and two sons enjoyed the week end in Compton where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
 Charles Marble.

 Miss Margaret James of Vermont who is spending the winter in Hermon was the guest this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burrell.

 Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman and Miss Bae, Mr. and Mrs. Rec Stanbury of Monrovia, Mr. Gerald Farman and Miss Bratt of Monrovia formed a merry picnic party and motored to Long Beach on Sunday.

 Mrs. M. D. Welsher and Mrs. William Dennison attended on Friday the Reciprocity Day of the Vacation Day League in Venice. Mrs. Dennison remained a few days visiting friends,
 Mr. Dennison joining her on Sunday.

 On Saturday evening Miss Margaret Allen will take part in a play called "Cinderella" when she will appear as queen of the fairies and will give a number of dancing specialties. The entertainment is to be given by the Captain Ball Team of the Los Robles School for Girls and will be given for the benefit of charity in the spacious grounds of C. A. Groose of Pasadena.

 On Wednesday afternoon Mrs.
 Frank Wright entertained a number of her friends at her home complimentary to Mrs. C. H. Baker who has recently returned home from the east.
 The guests were enjoyably entertained with a nursery rhyme contest, much amusement and laughter being derived from it and prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. A. Osgood, Mrs. C. H. Baker, and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell. A clever poem written by Mrs. C. W. Mitchell which was very appropriate to the occasion was read and dainty refreshments were served. Among those present were Mesdames J. A. Osgood, W. H. Ingraham, W. E. Walker, G.
 Hallett Johnson, E. T. Pierce, Selma

 Mrs. Rhoda Harris Baker, and Mrs.
 Roy Baker of Los Angeles.

 "Current Events" will be the subject of the program for next Monday, November 25. The time allotted to each speaker is five minutes, the speakers and their subjects being as follows:

 dealt with Egyptian Architecture. The comparisons made between Egyptian and early American Indian architecture were most interesting.

 The regular moving picture show will be given Saturday evening, having been omitted Thursday evening on account of the bazaar.

HOTEL SHIRLEY IS OPEN AGAIN

After being closed for several months Hotel Shirley has been reopened under entirely new management and the business section of town no longer presents the inhospitable appearance which accompanies a closed hotel building. C. W. Burnson, a recent arrival in Southern California from Quincy, Ill., has leased the building and will conduct a hospitable place on the European plan. The dining room is in charge of Mrs. Simons, who will serve the best of meals and will also establish a lunch counter service in the near future. A specialty will be made of Sunday chicken dinners. Mr. Simons has been acting as cook on the steamship Harvard but after the next trip he will come to Sierra Madre and take charge of the culinary end of the business. Mr. Burnson has been in the hotel business in Quincy for seventeen years during which time he has gained a wide acquaintance with the traveling public of the middle west.

INJURED IN COLLISION

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brown of East Grand View avenue were the victims of an auto accident on the Foothill Boulevard east of Duarte last Sunday which resulted painfully to them. Both were badly bruised and shaken but are reported to be recovering nicely. Their Brush runabout was disabled by the breaking of the front axle and smashing of guards and gear. The accident was the result of the driver of another auto trying to pass on the wrong side. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of open road, leaving no excuse for the blunder. The driver seemed to discover that he had started to turn out on the wrong side for he tried to turn back to the right, making it impossible for Mr. Brown to know what to expect or to avoid the collision. The other car, which was a Hupp, was somewhat battered but escaped serious injury, as did its occupants. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were taken to the Monrovia hospital for treatment and were brought to their home in Sierra Madre Wednesday afternoon by Milton Steinberger, who also brought their disabled car to the Sierra Madre garage.

GOOD TEMPLARS GO VISITING

Pasadena Lodge No. 173, I. O. G. T. will entertain Sierra Madre Lodge of Good Templars at their hall, 34 East Colorado street, on Tuesday evening next. Members are requested to communicate with Miss Mildred Sherman as to the time the car will leave Sierra Madre.

Sierra Madre lodge will be the entertaining body at the 48th regular quarterly session of the Ninth District Lodge comprising the local lodges of Los Angeles county on Saturday, Noember 30. In addition to the transaction of regular business an elaborate program of entertainment is reported to be in course of arrangement.

ADDING MACHINE SHOP

Harvey Steinberger is engaged in work on a machine shop at the rear of the Sierra Madre Garage building. Milton Steinberger has found his garage business growing so rapidly that the quarters which he entered on the first of September are already overcrowded. The addition which Mr. Kersting is providing at the rear of the building will permit the removal of the machine shop and work room from the main floor, giving much additional space for the storage of cars.

Much interest has been aroused by the recent announcement of new Studebaker models. While the 1913 cars are not now available for delivery Mr. Steinberger has made arrangements whereby he will take any person interested in the line to Los Angeles in a Studebaker touring car and show them the whole line or any particular model which they would like to see.

STREET TREES AND SAFETY

Reports are heard of a movement to secure the removal of the few remaining oak trees which are growing in the streets about town. The matter was pretty thoroughly threshed out some four years ago, when the trees were allowed to remain and copings were built about them for protection to trees and to vehicles. Since then the only accident resulting from their being left was in the case of a runaway team which probably would have struck something else if the tree had not stopped them. And the particular tree they struck was not on a public street either, but on a private thoroughfare. Just why the clatter should arise at this time is something of a mystery.

Those favoring the removal of trees have pointed to the fact that Pasadena has removed the giant oak which stood at the intersection of Orange Grove avenue and California street. No mention is made of the fact, however, that the tree was removed only after years of heroic but vain efforts to save the tree from falling to pieces with decay. Many other trees are still standing in the middle of Pasadena's paved streets. It is easy enough to kill a fine big tree no matter where situated. But considering the widespread efforts to promote street tree planting and the backward state of such enterprises in Sierra Madre the few trees that happen to remain in the roadways can well be spared awhile longer.

With wide and well lighted streets and a lamp on every tree there is no danger whatever to any person in his right mind driving within the lawful speed limit. If our streets have to be planned for the benefit of other classes of people the very small minority seems to have it over the great majority.

If it is the liability of accident that is feared, what about the deep gutters without a sign of a guard railing or coping at the ends of the box culverts? There must be anywhere from fifty to a hundred such places which offer a real menace on account of the almost universal tendency to cut corners and the danger of running into a gutter anywhere from one to four feet deep. And what about the railway siding at Central and Lima, with box cars frequently cutting off the view? To be sure a man would have to be pretty well soured to drive against a box car by day or night. But there have been not a few narrow escapes by reason of the obstruction offered to a view of the street when approaching from the north or east. When safety has been provided for to the extent of erecting guard rails at the culvert ends, by the removal of the Lima street switch, and by something more than a spasmodic enforcement of the speed ordinance, then it will be more appropriate to talk about the removal of the oak trees.

There is still another side to the question. There are people in Sierra Madre, probably more numerous than the owners of autos, who imagine they can see something of beauty in a tree which happens even to be in the middle of a street. Not a few visitors have been heard to classify Sierra Madre as a place apart from others because its residents had the good sense to refrain from cutting great oaks merely because the street happened to be laid out so as to include trees which had begun to grow there a century or so before. Similar press comments have been occasioned by street scenes shown in our advertising literature. Sierra Madre is a beautiful place, and growing more so. But it is hardly so beautiful as yet that it can spare the oaks from the streets without a distinct loss in that characteristic.

PERSONAL MENTION

W. S. Andrews has just recently received the news of the death of his brother who has been ill for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elder of Mason City, Iowa, were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman on Thursday.

A delightful evening was enjoyed at the home of Miss Lucile Sparke when she entertained the members of the T. C. B. Club. Amusement was afforded with games and refreshments were served later.
